August 2026

Welcome from the CEO

Thank you for taking the time to explore this opportunity to join Swansea Bay University Health Board. This is a pivotal moment for our organisation as we continue to strengthen the safety, quality and sustainability of care for the people of Swansea and Neath Port Talbot, while shaping the future of services across South West Wales.

Our ambition is clear: to create a healthier Swansea Bay, where people live well and age well, supported by high-quality care that is compassionate, equitable and delivered as close to home as possible. Our mission – Better Health, Better Care, Better Lives – reflects our commitment to prevention, early intervention, partnership working and continuous improvement.

Swansea Bay University Health Board is one of the largest employers in South West Wales, with around 14,700 staff, providing NHS services across Swansea and Neath Port Talbot alongside specialist tertiary services for patients from further afield.

Our organisational strategy, A Healthier Swansea Bay, sets out a clear vision for a population health organisation focused on prevention, reducing inequalities and improving access to care. We have made important progress, including improvements in planned care, but we are also clear-eyed about the scale of the challenge ahead: delivering sustainable services, reducing variation, strengthening community-based care and achieving financial balance while continuing to improve quality and experience for patients and staff.

We are honest about the challenges we face. Like health systems across Wales and the UK, we are responding to rising demand, workforce pressures, financial constraints, persistent health inequalities and the need to modernise how services are organised and delivered. At the same time, Swansea Bay has real strengths: dedicated colleagues, strong clinical services, important regional and specialist roles, committed partners and a clear strategic direction for the years ahead.

As a senior leader in our Health Board, you would be joining us at a time when visible, values-led leadership really matters. Through Organised for Success, we are aligning our structures, leadership arrangements and operating model to our strategy, strengthening accountability from Board to ward and enabling more clinically led decision-making.

Alongside this, Transforming for the Future – our refreshed Clinical Services Plan – will set out a clinically robust and financially sustainable model of care for Swansea Bay, informed by evidence on population health, demand and capacity, workforce, infrastructure, digital capability, quality, safety, inequalities and affordability.

We are looking for someone who brings strategic judgement, pace, humility and a strong commitment to public service values. Our organisational values – caring for each other, working together and always improving – are central to the way we lead, make decisions and support our colleagues.

You will need to be comfortable leading through complexity, working across organisational and system boundaries, and helping us make the difficult choices required to deliver safe, sustainable and high-quality care. Just as importantly, you will need to be a collaborative colleague: someone who builds trust, supports teams, challenges constructively and keeps patients, staff and communities at the centre of every decision.

If you are motivated by the opportunity to make a lasting difference in a complex, ambitious and values-driven health board, I hope you will consider applying. Thank you for your interest in Swansea Bay University Health Board. I look forward to hearing from you.

About Us

Swansea Bay UHB has a budget of £1.7bn and employs around 14,700 people, making us one of the largest employers in Wales. We provide NHS care for a population of around 390,000 across Swansea and Neath Port Talbot.

We offer a wide range of tertiary services to patients further afield, including burns and plastics, renal, cardiac surgery and specialist neonatal care.

We have three major acute hospitals – Morriston, Singleton and Neath Port Talbot, and provide community and mental health care, along with commissioning primary care services.

We have also set up the Southwest Wales Regional Joint Committee (RJC) with Hywel Dda UHB to provide joint leadership for planning, commissioning, and delivering services across the wider Southwest Wales region.

Our strategic vision is clear: a healthier Swansea Bay where individuals enjoy longer, happier, and more independent lives, with access to the care they need when they need it most. We are committed not only to treating illness, but also to supporting wellbeing throughout people's lives.

By working with our communities and partners, we seek to tackle health inequalities, empower people to make informed choices, and foster environments where everyone can thrive physically, mentally, and socially.

Vision, Mission and Values

Our Vision

At Swansea Bay University Health Board, our vision is to create a healthier future for everyone in our communities where people live well and age well. We envision a future where everyone enjoys longer, healthier, and happier lives, where people are supported to remain active and independent for as long as possible and access high-quality care when they need it most.

Our ambition is to create a wellness-focused system that prioritises prevention, early intervention, and anticipates health needs. Care will be delivered as close to home as possible, reducing reliance on hospital services and enabling faster recovery when hospital care is necessary. We are committed to delivering seamless, equitable, and person-centred care that responds to what matters most to individuals and their families. Through strong partnerships with patients, communities, and stakeholders, we will tackle health inequalities and empower people to take control of their wellbeing.

We are committed to fostering a culture of continuous improvement, innovation, and inclusion where staff feel valued, supported, and inspired to deliver their best. Through research, education, and collaboration we will shape a smarter, more sustainable health service that is fit for the future.

We will make responsible decisions that prioritise environmental sustainability, financial integrity, and social responsibility. We will embrace digital transformation, harness technology, and redesign services to meet the changing needs of our population ensuring care is safe, effective, and equitable.

Rooted in compassion and driven by excellence, we are working together toward a future where the Health Board is recognised as a leading example of compassionate, forward-thinking healthcare and Swansea Bay is a place where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

Our Mission

Our mission is simple yet powerful: to deliver better health, better care and better lives for the people we serve. This means helping individuals, families, and communities to live healthier, more fulfilling lives, preventing illness where we can and treating it swiftly, safely, and compassionately when we must.

Better Health means focusing on prevention, education, and early intervention. We work alongside our partners and communities to tackle the root causes of poor health supporting people to make informed choices, promoting mental wellbeing, and reducing health inequalities.

Better Care is about putting people at the heart of everything we do. We aim to deliver safe, timely, and personalised care which reflects what matters most for each individual. Whether at home, in the community, or in hospital, we strive to ensure every patient experience is grounded in dignity, respect, and excellence.

Better Lives reflects our wider commitment to supporting wellbeing beyond healthcare. By collaborating with social care, education, housing, and voluntary sectors, we aim to create the conditions where people can thrive physically, mentally, and socially.

Together, this mission drives every decision we make, as we build a stronger, healthier and more equitable Swansea Bay.

As a Health Board, we recognise that our direct influence on people's overall health, wellbeing, and quality of life is limited. Many of the factors that shape health outcomes such as housing, income, education, and social connections sit beyond the boundaries of health services.

Our strategy therefore focuses on the areas where we can make the most direct and meaningful impact, including the quality, accessibility, and effectiveness of care. However, we remain mindful of the wider determinants of population health and wellbeing.

We will use broader indicators such as the three below to inform our priorities, strengthen partnerships, and advocate for collective action that supports healthier lives and communities.

Our Values

Our values are those things which define our culture. They are the answer to the question: what is important to us? They serve as a reference point for everything we do and how we lead and manage the organisation.

Caring for each other in every human contact, in all of our communities and each of our hospitals.

- We are friendly, helpful and attentive. We welcome others with a smile
- We see people as individuals; we do the right thing for every person and treat everyone with dignity and respect
- We are kind, compassionate, patient and empathetic to the needs of others

Working together as patients, families, carers, staff and communities so that we always put patients first.

- We communicate openly and honestly and explain things clearly
- We take time to listen, understand and involve people; we value everyone's contribution, and we work with our partners to join things up for people
- We are open to, and act on, feedback
- We speak up if we are concerned

Always improving so that we are at our best for every patient and for each other.

- We keep people safe and provide an efficient and timely service
- We are professional and hold ourselves and each other to account
- We choose a positive attitude, seek out learning and continually develop our skills and services

Our Strategy

Our organisational strategy describes our commitment to building a healthier future for everyone in our communities; a future where people live well and age well, supported by high-quality care that is compassionate, equitable, and delivered close to home.

Our vision is clear: a healthier Swansea Bay where individuals enjoy longer, happier, and more independent lives, with access to the care they need when they need it most.

About the Area

Imagine combining a senior career in a major university health board with the opportunity to end each working day by the sea.

That is the offer of Swansea Bay.

This is a part of Wales where city, coast and countryside come together in a way few places can match. Swansea is a vibrant and ambitious city with a strong sense of identity, excellent restaurants, independent shops, galleries, theatres, live music and sport.

Its waterfront, marina and beaches are on the doorstep, while Swansea University brings a genuinely international outlook and a thriving research and student community.

Then there is Gower. Britain's first designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty begins virtually on the city's doorstep, offering miles of spectacular coastline, award-winning beaches, dramatic cliffs, woodland and open countryside. Rhossili, Three Cliffs Bay and Oxwich are just some of the destinations that make this one of the UK's most remarkable coastal landscapes.

Beyond the coast, the valleys, waterfalls and mountains of South Wales provide outstanding opportunities for walking, cycling, mountain biking and exploration.

For families, there is plenty to recommend the area. Swansea and the surrounding communities offer a broad choice of schools, while Swansea University provides a strong higher education presence. Housing is also an important part of the proposition. Compared with many parts of southern England, your money goes considerably further, whether you are looking for a city apartment, a family home near good schools, a coastal property or somewhere surrounded by countryside.

Swansea Bay is also better connected than its coastal setting might suggest. The M4 provides easy access across South Wales and into England, with Cardiff around an hour away and Bristol approximately two hours by road.

Direct rail services connect Swansea with Cardiff, Bristol and London, making the capital accessible for meetings, culture or simply a change of scene.

Most importantly, this is a place where professional ambition and quality of life do not have to compete with one another. Swansea Bay University Health Board is a major employer and healthcare organisation, serving communities across Swansea and Neath Port Talbot and working alongside academic, research and wider public-sector partners.

So if you are looking for your next senior leadership challenge, why not choose somewhere you would actually want to live?

In Swansea Bay, you can make a difference at work – and, five minutes later, be walking beside the sea.
